Peabody & Arnold LLP partner Colleen Hennessey will be speaking at the American Conference Institute's 22nd Annual Conference on Drug & Medical Device Litigation on December 4, 2017 at the Marriott Marquis in New York City. Colleen will be presenting at a workshop entitled "Training the Next Generation of Life Sciences Attorneys to Become an Asset."

From the website:

"In this session designed for up-and-coming drug and medical device products liability attorneys, leading members of the defense bar will share the insights that they have gained in the trenches of litigation and will give attendees the nuanced information they need to become the best they can be. More than just a primer on defending mass torts, this session will teach the next generation of the defense products liability bar what they need to know to try a case in order to increase value to their clients and become an asset."
